

(Used by Permission of Missionary Aviation Fellowship)

Betty Greene Story

In 1946, Betty Greene made history when she became the first missionary pilot. Her dream was to use airplanes to help people who were hard to reach with cars, boats, or even on foot. She wanted all people to know about Jesus. That's why she helped to start Mission Aviation Fellowship. Her first flight was to Mexico, but Betty flew all over Asia, Africa, and South America to share the gospel.

She was an excellent pilot and also knew a lot about fixing airplanes. She was able to safely travel through storms, over mountains, and onto tiny islands. In her career, she made close to 5,000 flights to bring missionaries and supplies to hard-to-reach places. She also flew very sick people to hospitals. Many would have died without her help.

Betty Greene loved Jesus, and that's why she chose to use her career as a pilot to help others. She flew the love of Jesus into many countries. Many people were helped and many became followers of Jesus because Betty Greene was faithful.